

As the hospital subsidiary of the Ferndale Pharma Group who has been in the health caring business for over a 100 years, providing quality products isn't just a job, it's personal. We take pride in the fact that our easy-to-use products provide improved quality of life for those that use our products.

At Eloquest Healthcare (a Ferndale INC. company), we are committed to reducing and prevent the risk of MARSI (medical adhesive related skin injury) and increasing patient satisfaction. Providing products that make it easier for caregivers/patients to improve patient health and comfort is a key component to our philosophy. Our products are backed by evidence that proves they will lead to improved outcomes.

Our product portfolio includes Mastisol® Liquid Adhesive & Detachol® Adhesive Remover.

Mastisol is a gum mastic-based liquid adhesive, which dramatically improves adherence, thereby minimizing lifted or detached vascular access dressings, device dislodgement, and risk of infection. Detachol is a non-irritating solvent used to quickly and painlessly remove medical dressings, tapes and most sticky residue from the skin. We strive for better clinical outcomes. Eloquest Healthcare works towards reduced risk of central line-associated bloodstream infections (CLABSI), post-op wound contamination, and skin injuries.

In Italy we are present as Ferndale Laboratories s.r.l.

For more information, please visit www.eloquesthealthcare.com

For Italy and European countries: franco.cipullo@mastisol-europe.com

elena.franci@mastisol-europe.com